

My bank is not on the list, but if they were, I would not want them calling me to solicit more business. They would have my address, so they could mail me something that I could peruse at my own convenience.